Energy Institute Middle East

Middle East HSE Forum – 1-3 October, 2018

International technical conference and workshop

Middle East HSE Forum 2018

Effective management of health, safety, environment and sustainability: sharing international good practice and learning

1 - 3 October 2018
Dubai, UAE

Hosted by energy institute

Headline sponsor

This International technical forum hosted by the Energy Institute will deliver essential learning and sharing of international good practice to help improve the safety performance of organisations, foster a healthy and accident-free work culture, and ensure a sustainable environment. Bringing together research, academia, industry and regulators, the conference will discuss key HSE challenges and opportunities facing the energy sectors in the Middle East.

Key topics include:

- HSE Management – Organisational arrangements to identify hazards, reduce risks and enhance business performance
- Health – Managing health hazards and reducing their impact on workers' health
- Process Safety – Managing hazards that have the potential to cause major accidents
- Human Factors – Unlocking the potential of future talent and inspiring people
- Environment sustainability and energy – Processes aimed at avoiding and mitigating environmental impacts and improving energy management

Dr. Waddah S. Ghanem, the Executive Director, EHSSQ & Corporate Affairs, Emirates National Oil Company Limited (ENOC)

"Health, safety and environmental stewardship are non-negotiable priorities for all organisations. ENOC is pleased to host the inaugural Middle East HSE Forum in collaboration with the Energy Institute to provide an effective platform for industry experts to get a prime opportunity to discuss key issues, share knowledge and continue raising the bar."
